PE1911/DD: Review of Human Tissue (Scotland)
Act 2006 as it relates to post-mortems

I fully support the above petition and think the use of Scanners, as carried out in parts of England, would be a much better way of carrying out Post Mortems.

Tissue Samples should be sent back to the next of kin. Surely it is their right to have them, after the anguish and trauma they have suffered in the loss of their loved one.
