S5M-01161 Elaine Smith: Safer Scottish Trains Campaign—That the Parliament supports the RMT campaign, Safer Scottish Trains, which aims to make Scotland's passenger train services the safest in the world; applauds the objective to make every train safe, secure and fully accessible for all passengers, including older and disabled people; believes that passengers want a fully safety qualified, operationally-trained guard on every train to guarantee their safety and security, deal with emergencies and to provide advice, assurance and assistance, including on new rolling stock; expresses serious concern at reports that hundreds of trains in Scotland are run every week with only a driver; believes that all stations, including Coatbridge Sunnyside, should be welcoming, bright, secure and properly staffed in order to meet the needs of all passengers; considers that safe trains are reliant on safe tracks and that cuts to staffing or funding for rail infrastructure or operations undermine staff and passenger safety, and notes the calls for the Scottish Government to launch an urgent review of the safety and service quality on Scotland's trains, including on driver-only operated services on the network. S5M-01117 Jackson Carlaw: 75.5% Employment in East Renfrewshire—That the Parliament notes the recently released statistics from the Office for National Statistics (ONS), which show that in percentage terms, 75.5% of East Renfrewshire's working population was employed over the last analytical year; notes that Eastwood makes up a large part of the broader East Renfrewshire local authority boundary; is aware that East Renfrewshire continues to have in-work rates above the national average, with 1,800 residents aged 16 or over out of work, 1.8% less than Scotland's 5.7% during this time; believes that, although these statistics are positive, a mentality should never be allowed to develop that more cannot be done to assist those who need it most to get into and stay in a job; takes the view that being in employment is not merely about the wage with which it comes with but giving people a reason to get up in the morning and a network of colleagues beyond those they would normally meet; welcomes the commitment to further education evident in East Renfrewshire and Eastwood, with 3,700 students living in the region, 30.3% compared with Scotland's 24.8% national average, and commits to working with East Renfrewshire Council, the Scottish Government and other organisations to continue to improve the working lives of Eastwood residents.
