Debate on the subject of—

S5M-03029 Alison Johnstone: Extending Maternity and Paternity Leave for Parents of Premature Babies—That the Parliament notes the campaign, The Smallest Things, which is calling on the UK Government to extend maternity and paternity leave and statutory maternity pay for parents of babies who are born prematurely; understands that, according to research by Bliss, there are an estimated 5,800 babies born every year in Scotland who require specialist neonatal hospital care; further understands that this extended period of care can have a serious impact on the health, wellbeing and financial security of the families concerned, including those in Lothian, and notes the introduction of the Maternity and Paternity Leave (Premature Birth) Bill in the House of Commons, which is a private member's bill that seeks to extend leave in these circumstances.

Debate on the subject of—

S5M-02454 Emma Harper: Ending the Illegal Puppy Trade—That the Parliament notes the reported concerns about the illegal puppy trade and the view that this business is a blight on animal welfare that must be tackled; understands however that the trade is big business in Scotland, with thousands of dogs being brought into the country each year from Ireland in particular; further understands that the Scottish SPCA and activists in Stranraer have been attempting to disrupt such activity at the port of Cairnryan; believes that the animals involved are bred and kept in horrendous conditions, which can lead to illness and death; understands that, as Christmas approaches, more people might be tempted to purchase a puppy; notes the Scottish SPCA's recommendation that people should try to rehome a dog in the first instance but that, if someone is intent on buying a puppy, then they should do so from a reputable and licensed breeder and insist on seeing the puppy's mother and, if possible, father, as well as its living conditions; notes that it also states that puppies should not be purchased in a public place, such as a car park, and that this should set alarm bells ringing if it is suggested by the seller; understands that, while reputable breeders do advertise with it online, the charity generally advises against buying animals via the internet and that searching the seller's phone number online could reveal whether they deal in multiple litters and breeds, and notes the view that tackling illegal trafficking through raising public awareness of it is one of the primary ways that Scotland can begin to disrupt this cruel trade.

Members' Business motions that have achieved cross party support

S5M-03224 Maurice Corry: The Veterans Community: Employability, Skills and Training—That the Parliament welcomes the publication of the latest report by the Scottish Veterans Commissioner, Eric Fraser, The Veterans Community: Employability, Skills and Training; understands that the report covers issues facing veterans surrounding securing employment, qualifications and skills and further and higher education; recognises that the report highlights the important role that veterans, including those in West Scotland, can play in society, thanks to the many unique skills that they possess, and welcomes the recommendations made by the commissioner in his report.

S5M-03214 Linda Fabiani: Marie Curie's Great Daffodil Appeal—That the Parliament welcomes Marie Curie's Great Daffodil Appeal, which is now in its 31st year and runs throughout March 2017; understands that Marie Curie provides care and support for over 8,000 people and their families every year in Scotland in their own homes, in 31 local authorities and in Marie Curie hospices in Edinburgh and Glasgow; highlights the vital contribution that volunteers make to provide this care; acknowledges that in 2015-16, 1,863 people across Scotland volunteered for Marie Curie in their community fundraising groups, the Helper service, shops and offices; recognises the dedication and hard work of fundraising volunteers that means the annual Great Daffodil Appeal has so far raised over £80 million pounds since 1986 to enable and support the work of the charity; applauds what it sees as the substantial contribution made by over 80 local Marie Curie fundraising groups to the Great Daffodil Appeal every year to support Marie Curie services across Scotland; further recognises that trained volunteers from the Marie Curie Helper service, currently available in Dumfries and Galloway, Fife, Lothian, Grampian and Argyll and Bute, provide one-to-one emotional support, companionship and information for people living with a terminal illness and their families; considers that terminal illness can be a lonely and isolating experience and that the Helper service can help tackle social isolation, loneliness and associated mental health issues; recognises the role of volunteers in Marie Curie's 37 shops in Scotland who it considers provide excellent customer service and are involved in a wide range of activities to support the running of each shop; acknowledges that volunteering or joining a fundraising group can be very rewarding and every volunteer's gift of time and skills helps Marie Curie to make a real difference to the lives of people living with a terminal illness, and their families, as well as raising vital local funds; applauds the work of staff and volunteers across Marie Curie who work toward its vision of a better life for people and their families living with a terminal illness, and notes calls to encourage as many people as possible to support the campaign.

S5M-03227 Neil Findlay: Cleft Palate Surgery in Lothian—That the Parliament condemns the decision by the Cabinet Secretary for Health and Sport to approve the end to cleft palate surgery in Lothian and to centralise this in Glasgow, and believes that this is not in the interests of patients, their families and the NHS staff affected.

S5M-03226 Claudia Beamish: Just Transition to a Low-carbon Economy—That the Parliament welcomes the joint statement from the STUC and Friends of the Earth Scotland on a just transition to a low-carbon economy; commends all of the organisations that collaborated by contributing policy ideas for an industrial strategy for a just transition; highlights the opportunity that it believes the statement provides for a more resilient economy, including the development of decent jobs for the future and warmer homes in a low-carbon Scotland; echoes the statement's call for a more interventionist approach to protect workers across the economy and to ensure that nobody is left behind, and believes that social justice, as well as economic and environmental sustainability, should be at the heart of the climate change plan and Scottish energy strategy.

S5M-03225 Jackie Baillie: Heritage Lottery Funding to Restore Dunkirk Little Ship—That the Parliament congratulates the Skylark IX Recovery Trust on being awarded a first round pass from the Heritage Lottery Fund to restore the Skylark IX Dunkirk Little Ship into working order with the aim of it becoming a floating museum; notes that the award includes £18,900 of development funding and the potential for a further £404,400 in a second round application; welcomes the plans for a two-year restoration programme, with traineeships offered to participants recovering from drug abuse, to be carried out at the Scottish Maritime Museum's attractions in Irvine and Dumbarton; further notes that the Skylark XI saved the lives of 600 Allied soldiers during Operation Dynamo, which resulted in British and French soldiers being rescued from Dunkirk in 1940; understands that, after the war, the Skylark XI was brought to Loch Lomond where she was used as a cruise boat for 33 years, but that she sank in 2010, just two days after the 70th anniversary of Dunkirk, and commends the Skylark IX Recovery Trust on its effort to restore the historic vessel.

S5M-03223 Jackson Carlaw: Rabbi Lionel Blue, 1930 - 2016—That the Parliament notes the life of Rabbi Lionel Blue, who died on 19 December 2016; acknowledges that Rabbi Blue was well known for his broadcasting work on behalf of the Reform Jewish faith, in particular on Thought for the Day on BBC Radio 4's Today programme; notes that, in the 1980s, he was the first British rabbi to come out as gay, at a time when being gay was still generally viewed by too many in society as unacceptable, and, in doing so, considers that he broke down barriers for future generations; thanks him for his ecumenical approach, which saw him meeting with Christians, Muslims and people of other faiths and of none; considers that this approach helped him to build links between different creeds, and ultimately believes that the world is a poorer place without his liberal thinking on matters of faith.

Proposals for Members' Bills

A member seeking to introduce a Member's Bill must first lodge a draft proposal, together with a consultation document (or a statement of reasons why consultation is not considered necessary). Subsequently, the member may lodge a final proposal, in broadly similar terms to the draft, accompanied by a summary of consultation responses (or the statement of reasons). The member secures the right to introduce a Bill to give effect to the proposal if the final proposal secures, within one month, the support of at least 18 other members from at least half the political parties or groups represented in the Parliamentary Bureau, and provided no indication is given that the Scottish Government or UK Government is planning equivalent legislation.

All current proposals (together with associated documents) are available on the Scottish Parliament website at Proposals for Members' Bills/Session 5 Proposals:

For each Bill, the date of the next (or most recent) event in the Bill's passage is given. Other relevant information, e.g. about lodging amendments, is given in italics.

As soon as a Public Bill (i.e. a Government, Committee or Member's Bill) has completed Stage 1, amendments for consideration at Stage 2 may be lodged; and as soon as Stage 2 is completed, amendments for Stage 3 consideration may be lodged. The last lodging day for amendments at Stage 2 is four sitting days before the meeting at which those amendments will be considered (e.g. Wednesday for a meeting on Tuesday); at Stage 3 it is five days before. Amendments may be lodged until 4.30 pm on any sitting day, except on the last lodging day for each Stage, when the deadline is 12 noon.

A Hybrid Bill is subject to the same rules except in the case of Stage 2 where amendments for consideration may be lodged no earlier than the completion of any consideration of evidence at Stage 2.

Amendments to Private Bills are subject to different deadlines. These are set out in Rule 9A.12 of Standing Orders.

Members are advised to lodge amendments in good time before the beginning of a Stage and as early as possible during the day.

(G) = Government Bill; (M) = Member's Bill; (C) = Committee Bill; (P) = Private Bill; (H) = Hybrid Bill.
