Motions

Motions and amendments are usually printed the day after lodging. When an amendment is lodged, then the original motion will be republished alongside it.

Motions and amendments can be published with symbols:

- * before the number indicates publication for the first time
- *...* around a section of text indicates changes to previously published material
- R indicates a member has declared a registered interest

The Parliamentary Bureau periodically deletes motions or amendments that are over six weeks old and not scheduled for debate.

Questions regarding this section should be directed to the Chamber Desk.

Members' Business motions that have not achieved cross party support

*S6M-05469 Siobhian Brown: Concern Regarding Youth Vaping—That the Parliament notes reports of concern over vaping and a surge in young people using e-cigarettes; believes that vaping products are not for children, young people or non-smokers and are useful only as a potential route towards stopping smoking; understands from reports that there is potentially strong evidence that e-cigarettes, which are bright and colourful and can come in thousands of e-liquid flavours, can increase attractiveness to children and young people; further understands that the long-term risks of vaping cannot yet be definitively confirmed by research studies; considers that these products are not harmless and are a risk to the long-term health of young people, and notes the view that it is important to highlight this for forthcoming generations in Ayr and across the country.

*S6M-05214 Pam Duncan-Glancy: Glasgow and Eurovision 2023—That the Parliament regrets that the Russian invasion means that Ukraine is unable to host the Eurovision song context in 2023, despite winning the competition; believes that, if the UK is to host Eurovision 2023 as the 2022 runner up, Glasgow would make the ideal host city; further believes that, as a city of culture, Glasgow can best embody the unity, strength, and resilience that it considers Ukraine has shown since the conflict began; believes that people truly do make Glasgow, and notes the view that Glasgow's communities need to be part of the planning process if the city is chosen as the host of Eurovision 2023, to ensure that the event meets its potential.

Supported by: Foyso Choudhury*, Alex Rowley*, Sandesh Gulhane*, Stuart McMillan*, Bill Kidd*

Other new and altered motions and amendments

*S6M-05501 Alexander Stewart: Samaritans, The Big Listen 2022—That the Parliament acknowledges the Samaritans Awareness Day named The Big Listen, which takes place on 24 July 2022; notes the significance of the date, highlighting Samaritans' 24/7 availability; understands that the event aims to highlight that, every six seconds, the charity answers a call for help and that it is there to provide help 24/7 for anyone who is struggling to cope and needs

*S6M-05423 Alexander Stewart: "Better Safe than Tumour" Campaign Launched by The Brain Tumour Charity—That the Parliament welcomes the news that a new flagship campaign to raise awareness of the signs and symptoms of brain tumours in children and adults has been launched; understands that the campaign by the Brain Tumour Charity, named Better Safe than Tumour, aims to support the public in their awareness of the possible signs and symptoms, and encourage them to get any concerning or persistent symptoms checked out by a doctor; believes that Better Safe than Tumour builds on the success of the charity's previous long-term initiative in paediatric brain tumours known as HeadSmart, which launched in 2009, in partnership with the Royal College of Paediatric and Child Health and the University of Nottingham, to raise awareness of the signs and symptoms in children and teenagers; understands that, following HeadSmart's reported impact in helping reduce average diagnosis times in younger people from 13 to 6.5 weeks, the award-winning campaign has now been refreshed and expanded to cover the signs and symptoms in both children and adults; further understands that with this new campaign being launched, the Brain Tumour Charity has also launched a website at headsmart.org.uk/symptom-checker where people can use a new symptom tracker, which, it understands, then produces a helpful guide which they can download; understands that this means that, if they then visit their GP, they are guided on what to expect, what they can do to prepare and what they should say; further understands that with over 12,000 people being diagnosed in the UK each year, brain tumours kill more children and adults under 40 than any other cancer, and commends the Brain Tumour Charity on its tireless work in this regard, as well as for what it sees as this excellent campaign. R

*S6M-05384 Alasdair Allan: Scottish Gaelic and the 150th Anniversary of the Education (Scotland) Act 1872—That the Parliament notes that 2022 marks 150 years since the Education (Scotland) Act was passed, in 1872; understands that the Act, passed by the UK Parliament, made elementary education for all children between the ages of five and 13 mandatory in Scotland with what it believes were widespread benefits; understands, however, that at the time, the Act was criticised for failing to safeguard the tradition of parish schools in Scotland or provide for secondary education; believes that the Act remains controversial to date due to the reported harm caused by the Act to the Scottish Gaelic language; condemns the reported routine use of corporal punishment on children caught speaking Gaelic in the classroom, even, it understands, by teachers who were native Gaelic speakers themselves; understands that this practice is purported to have continued in some Scottish schools well into the 1970s; considers that the attitude of many education practitioners and the overall system during this period could be seen to have severely undermined the inter-generational transmission of the language in Gaelic-speaking communities; understands that there have been calls for present day politicians to retrospectively apologise for the harm reportedly done to Scottish Gaelic as a minority language through the 1872 UK Act of Parliament; praises the Gaelic Language (Scotland) Act 2005, passed by the Scottish Parliament, which sought to give Gaelic greater protection and prominence as an official language of Scotland; recognises what it sees as the continued cross-party support in the Scottish Parliament for the Gaelic language; welcomes what it sees as the Scottish Government's ongoing commitment to the encouragement and regrowth of the Scottish Gaelic language through policies and funding streams; acknowledges the efforts of statutory body Bòrd na Gàidhlig, since its establishment as part of the 2005 Act; praises the work of Gaelic-medium teachers and school staff throughout Scotland working to provide school pupils with high-quality, Gaelic-medium education; acknowledges the role of free, online resources such as Duolingo and SpeakGaelic in helping individuals begin to develop Gaelic language skills, adding to what it sees as the invaluable work of well-established courses and resources, and hopes that the number of fluent Scottish Gaelic speakers will begin to grow again in the years ahead, in the traditional Gaelic-speaking heartlands, as well as in urban communities, and in the digital sphere.

*S6M-05234 Kaukab Stewart: Independent Commission of Inquiry into Asylum Provision in Scotland—That the Parliament welcomes the establishment on 26 June 2022 of the Independent Commission of Inquiry into Asylum Provision in Scotland, commissioned by Refugees for Justice and chaired by Baroness Helena Kennedy QC, and congratulates them on a successful launch; believes, in line with the statement in the Foreword to the Commission's first publication, that "The asylum system is broken"; understands that the Commission has been set up primarily in response to what has become known as "the Park Inn tragedy", which took place in Glasgow in June 2020; notes reports that the experience of asylum seekers who were moved suddenly, and with little or no explanation, into hotel accommodation for an indefinite period of time, with no access to money, deprived of any sense of personal freedom or adequate care, was frightening, degrading, and damaging, regardless of the reasons for doing so; deeply regrets that no accountability has been taken for what it sees as these tragic events, nor, it believes, many lessons learnt; believes that successive Scottish Governments have actively sought to embed integration from day one of the arrival of "New Scots" in Scotland, in line with the stated objectives of the New Scots Refugee Integration Strategy, and calls on the Scottish Government to engage positively with the inquiry and to bring pressure to bear on the UK Government and other relevant stakeholders to do likewise.

Progress of Legislation

A list of all Bills in progress can be accessed via the Scottish Parliament website at:

<https://www.parliament.scot/bills-and-laws/bills>

For each Bill, the date of the next (or most recent) event in the Bill's passage is given. Other relevant information, e.g. about lodging amendments, is given in italics.

As soon as a Public Bill (i.e. a Government, Committee or Member's Bill) has completed Stage 1, amendments for consideration at Stage 2 may be lodged; and as soon as Stage 2 is completed, amendments for Stage 3 consideration may be lodged. The last lodging day for amendments at Stage 2 is four sitting days before the meeting at which those amendments will be considered (e.g. Wednesday for a meeting on Tuesday); at Stage 3 it is five days before. Amendments may be lodged until 4.30 pm on any sitting day, except on the last lodging day for each Stage, when the deadline is 12 noon.

A Hybrid Bill is subject to the same rules except in the case of Stage 2 where amendments for consideration may be lodged no earlier than the completion of any consideration of evidence at Stage 2.

Amendments to Private Bills are subject to different deadlines. These are set out in Rule 9A.12 of Standing Orders.

Members are advised to lodge amendments in good time before the beginning of a Stage and as early as possible during the day.

(G) = Government Bill; (M) = Member's Bill; (C) = Committee Bill; (P) = Private Bill; (H) = Hybrid Bill.
